Painting Tableau Stage

September 24 – November 14, 2013

The central visual core of Painting Tableau Stage is comprised of paintings by four contemporary artists from the United Kingdom—Moyra Derby, Stuart Elliot, Mick Finch, and Beth Harland—all of whom share an interest in concepts of the tableau, a term that has received recent critical attention in the U.K. and often translated as “picture form.” In addition, a small selection of scenographic objects and models from OSU’s Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee Theatre Research Institute will complement the exhibition as a visual reminder of some ways in which theater and painting share aspects of the tableau. The exhibition is curated by Ohio State University Department of Art professor, Laura Lisbon.
