Dear Adrian Mackenzie,

Re: tracking number BIOSOC-13-11-016-AR2: article title "Post-Archival Genomics and the Bulk Logistics of DNA Sequences"

Thank you for your submission to BioSocieties. I am very pleased to let you know that the Editors have accepted your paper for publication in the journal. There are a few things which we need before we can send your paper to production:

1. Please can you confirm that the figures are all your own material? If they are not, can you confirm whether you have written permission to use them?
2. Please add legends 'Figure 1', 'Figure 2' and so on, to the figures, and send me these at biosoc@palgrave.com.
3. Please could you send me short biographies of each author, of between 50-100 words.

Once these points are attended to, your paper will be sent to our copyeditor for minor revisions. This copyedited manuscript will be stored as the final version on our submission systems. Therefore, we would appreciate that you retain your pre-copyedit files for any future reference, if required.

Once the manuscript has been copy edited and typeset you will receive an email directing you to our online proofing site where you will be able to check the PDF proofs of your article. Please read and follow the instructions carefully and send back any changes as directed. This will be your last chance to check the paper before it is published.

Important, please read:

If you have submitted an Original Article you have the opportunity to have your accepted manuscript published Open Access as part of the Palgrave Open initiative. On payment of an Article Processing Charge your article would be made available to non-subscribers immediately upon publication. Palgrave Open articles are made freely available online and can be freely redistributed under a choice of Creative Commons licenses. Full details about Palgrave Open are available at www.palgrave-journals.com/palgraveopen/index.html.

If you want to consider this option the publisher will need to know as soon as possible and ideally within 2 working days of receipt of this message. You should download and complete the license and payment forms from www.palgrave-journals.com/biosoc/biosoc\_licence\_to\_publish.pdf and return them direct to the publisher as detailed on the form. They will not be able to process your article as Open Access without having both forms fully completed.

If you are not requesting that your article is published Open Access you will need to sign a standard Copyright Assignment Form instead before it can be published. Please download the form from <http://www.palgrave-journals.com/pal/authors/cafs/BIOSOC.pdf> and return direct to the publisher as detailed on the form.

You will also be provided with details of how to order offprints of your individual article and the associated costs. Please bear in mind that if you request copies of your article after publication (i.e. reprints) these will be significantly more expensive.

Corresponding authors will receive a PDF of their article. This PDF offprint is provided for personal use. It is the responsibility of the corresponding author to pass the PDF offprint onto co-authors (if relevant) and ensure that they are aware of the conditions pertaining to its use. The PDF must not be placed on a publicly-available website for general viewing, or otherwise distributed without seeking our permission, as this would contravene our copyright policy and potentially damage the journal's circulation. Please visit http://www.palgrave-journals.com/pal/authors/rights\_and\_permissions.html to see our latest copyright policy.

We are very pleased to be publishing this excellent paper - thank you for submitting it to BioSocieties.

Do please contact me at Biosoc@palgrave.com if you have any queries.

Yours sincerely,

Beatrix Daniel
